Clean Vitrified Tiles at Home & Make Scratch Proof

1. Clean low-traffic floor tiles at least once a week, and high-traffic areas every one to two days. Use a microfiber cleaning cloth to dust the wall tiles weekly. Dirt particles can damage tiles if they are not cleaned or dusted on a regular basis.

2. Use a commercial tile cleaner formulated especially for tile material. Remember, if the cleaner is concentrated, dilute it before use!

3. Once a week, mop the floor tiles using the prescribed cleaning solution. Wipe the walls tiles with this mixture!

4. Use clear water to rinse the cleaning solution from the tiles. If you leave the mixture on the tiles, it will leave a hazy residue that can spoil the tiles.

5. After cleaning, use a soft towel to dry the tiles. In this way, the water stain formation are prevented.

6. For a more thorough cleaning, mix one cup of vinegar with a bucket of scalding water. Then, wipe the floor with a dry, soft mop soaked in the mix. Allow your floor tiles to dry fully before stepping on them.

7. A floor isn't clean until the grouts are thoroughly cleaned. For cleaning the grouts, you can create a solution with one cup of baking soda mixed with 2 spoons of water. Clean the grouts thoroughly and allow the mix to dry for 5-7 minutes. Thereafter, use a toothbrush or any other soft brush to carefully scrape off the mix from the grout. Finally, clean the surface with a moist towel.

8. Avoid using acids and strong detergent products for cleaning as they can damage the floor tiles and grouts. Also, use soft fiber cloth for cleaning.
